SUPERHALFS EXPANDS WITH THE LAUNCH OF SUPERHALFS EUROPA, A NEW SIX-RACE SERIES

Napoli, Warsaw, Belgrade, Vienna, Riga, and Stockholm join a new chapter of the SuperHalfs journey, starting in 2027.

6 November 2026 — SuperHalfs today announced the launch of SuperHalfs EUROPA – by Generali, a new six-race half-marathon series that will expand the SuperHalfs experience and offer runners a new journey across Europe, starting in 2027.

The inaugural series will bring together six new races, in six new cities, in six new countries: Napoli in Italy, Warsaw in Poland, Belgrade in Serbia, Vienna in Austria, Riga in Latvia, and Stockholm in Sweden.

SuperHalfs EUROPA builds on the success of the six SuperHalfs founding races, which will now bear a new name of SuperHalfs ORIGINALS, in Lisbon, Prague, Berlin, Copenhagen, Cardiff, and Valencia.

The two series will operate separately, each offering its own six-race challenge and distinctive SuperMedal. Runners can choose the journey that suits them best, or participate in both in parallel, and complete the series and its six races in any order and at their own pace.

The new series creates more opportunities for runners to pursue a personal goal through running, travel, and discovery, while bringing more extraordinary European destinations into the SuperHalfs community.

12 races. Two series. Two journeys. Two SuperPassports. Two SuperMedals.

“SuperHalfs has always been about much more than running half marathons. It is about giving runners a goal to dream about, places to discover, and a journey to make their own. With SuperHalfs EUROPA, which is kindly supported by Generali, we are opening a new chapter while staying true to the spirit and standards that define SuperHalfs,” said Sasho Belovski, Managing Director of SuperHalfs.

The first SuperHalfs Europa season is planned for 2027, and the SuperHalfs website already offers further details about the series and its participation opportunities.
